

Dear Claudine,

It's time ignore the snow and get ready for spring! We finish up our clearance sale (Sat. is the last day), switch out the store to spring/summer, and display Easter apparel all in the next week. Your mood can't help but be lightened when you come in and see the bright colors, shorts, sundresses, and sandals.

Thanks so much, Claudine

Prime Time to Buy a Stroller

~~~~~
You know it's coming . . . that one warm, sunny day that gives us all spring fever. Be prepared! Right now is the best time all year to buy a stroller. Our selection will not be better than it is right now! Consignors have been bringing them in all winter long. We have singles, doubles, and joggers to choose from.

If you are on our email list, we make sure that you are informed about the store's major events. BUT . . . how would you like to have access to real-time notifications about unique and high-demand items as they come in?? We are working to do this through Facebook and Twitter. We will soon have links right on our website, but until then I wanted to let you know that you can access the Milestones Quality Children's Consignment fan page on Facebook and/or follow MilestonesQCC on Twitter. If you see something in our post that interests you, feel free to call the store to get more information, have us text you a picture, or put the item on hold. Any suggestions you may have on how to best use these social networking sites is greatly appreciated. Let us know what you think!

The Sassy Peacock Moves!

Our friends at The Sassy Peacock have moved into their new home! This bigger and better location is at 843 Pittsburgh Ave. (in the former City Mission Angel Bay store). Both Sabrina and I work very hard to change common conceptions about consignment shopping, offering high-quality items in clean, comfortable, organized spaces. We both want you to ENJOY browsing in our stores. If you were ever in Angel Bay, you will not believe the transformation Sabrina has accomplished in just a few weeks. I am so excited to see a local, woman-owned business growing in these hard economic times. Make it a point to stop in and offer your support!
